

Rebuilding a Good Life

Pazir was ripped from the life he knew when the Taliban bombed the Kabul International Airport in Afghanistan

“

It's really hard to leave your home where you grew up; where you made yourself; where you made your career; where you established a good life—like, a really good life.

”